Foreword

We, the yearbook staff of this, the 1953 Kingstonian annual wish you, our critics to read our manuscript. It is the story of our four years in Kingston High School. We have chosen to present this story in the form of a motion picture, entitled "Four Years in the Greatest Theater on Earth". Our best efforts have gone into this project in order that instead of its becoming a chronological list of facts, dates, and figures, it might be an interesting and real-life tale of the way that this institution has helped us to progress from childhood to adulthood and how in doing so it has taught us the cherished and never to be forgotten meanings of such qualities as scholarship, leadership, integrity, responsibility, and many others, which are far too numerous to mention here.

We hope that one day we may be able to read this book and to look back on these four years to recall memories of some of the happiest moments of our lives. That is perhaps our foremost purpose of this publication, but we also wish others to enjoy our experiences by seeing and reading about them as they have happened to us.

The curtain rises, the lights are dimmed, and the picture has begun. With this premier performance go our great desires that you will enjoy yourself and our showing.

Dedication

MISS CARRIE BROWN

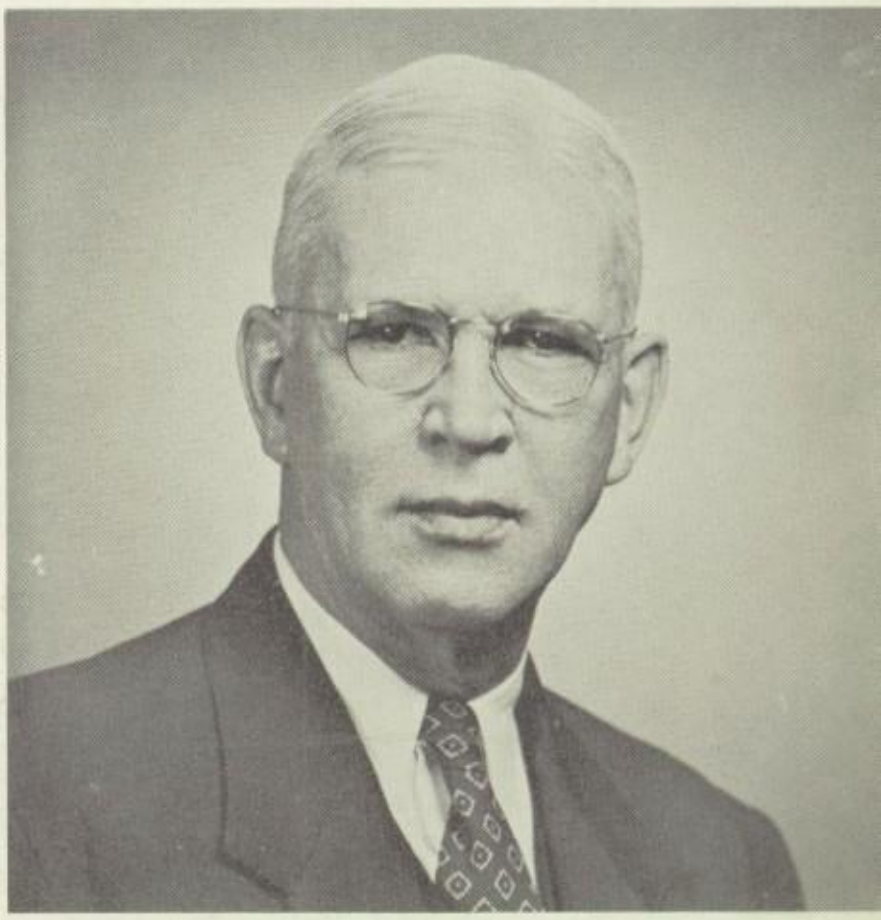
Of Miss Carrie Brown's 32 years of teaching in Kingston High School, our class was privileged to know her for only two years for Miss Brown retired in February, 1951. Although only a few of us came directly under her supervision, we all realized that she possessed qualities that are most admirable in a teacher—refinement, patience, a pleasing personality and ability as a teacher in her particular field.

After graduating from Stroudsburg State Teachers College and teaching for two years in Idetown and eight years in the Kingston grade schools, Miss Brown came to the commercial department of Kingston High School. Here she taught several of the commercial subjects always having the success of her students in mind for her recommendations to business firms have brought successful careers to many of our graduates.

Miss Brown's talents are many and she has given freely of her dramatic ability to Kingston High School while with us and to the Methodist Church where she is still very active in many types of church work.

Always ready to promote the welfare of students and friends, her acts of kindness and generosity have been unknown to many and we are sure that Kingston High School has been the richer for having had Miss Brown as a teacher and a friend.

MR. S. EDWARD McCONNELL



Mr. S. Edward McConnell came to Kingston High School in 1931. Those of us who knew him will always remember him as a gentleman of integrity, for he was always courteous and considerate, and he was always true to his own ideals as well as to the ideals of Kingston High School.

Mr. McConnell was graduated from Mt. Union College, Alliance, Ohio. He did post-graduate work with Penn State University, the University of Pennsylvania and Susquehanna University.

Before coming to Kingston, he taught in the high schools in West Springfield, Massachusetts and Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and at the Wilkes-Barre Business College.

Mr. McConnell was always ready to help his pupils. His interest in them went far beyond the classroom. He aided in placing many boys and girls in good positions.

Kingston High School was indeed fortunate in having a man of his fine qualities as one of its commercial teachers.

MRS. WILLIAM PIERCE

Mrs. William Pierce, known to us as Miss Enid Sweet, was until two years ago one of our most beloved teachers. When she left us to become Mrs. Pierce, our school suffered a distinct loss.

During her years of teaching in Kingston High School, Miss Sweet taught at various times, Pennsylvania History, Public Speaking, four years of Latin and was for several years the Director of Activities.

Although Miss Sweet was most capable in all these fields, her real interest was in the teaching of Latin. Through her inspired teaching, Ancient Rome became real and living.

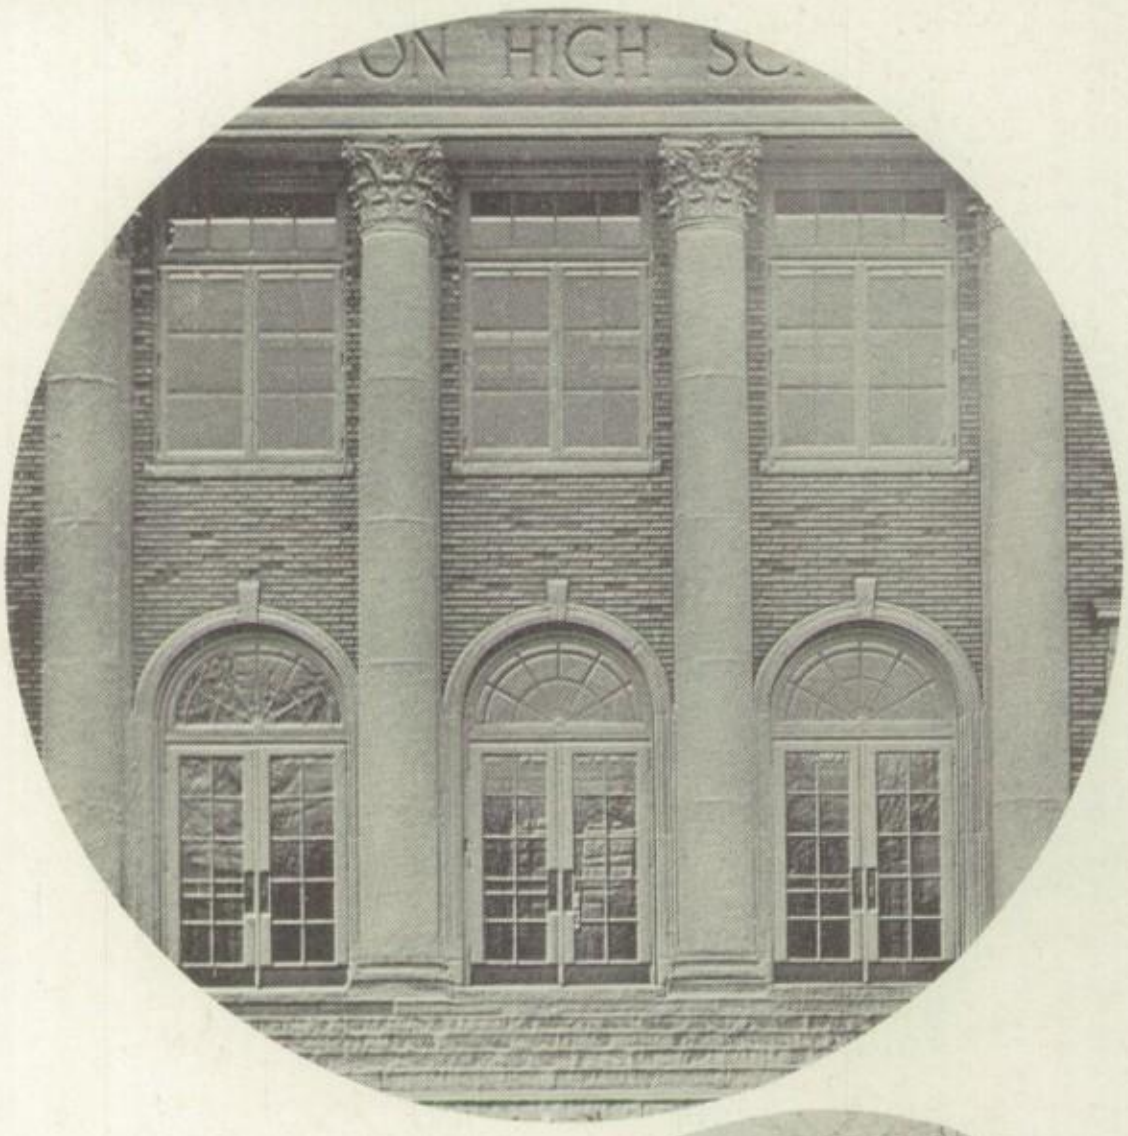
We students of recent years remember Miss Sweet in Room 105, but former students will recall her in room 109 or 111. Both her homeroom and classroom students always felt her warm, friendly interest, and they knew they could turn to her for advice.

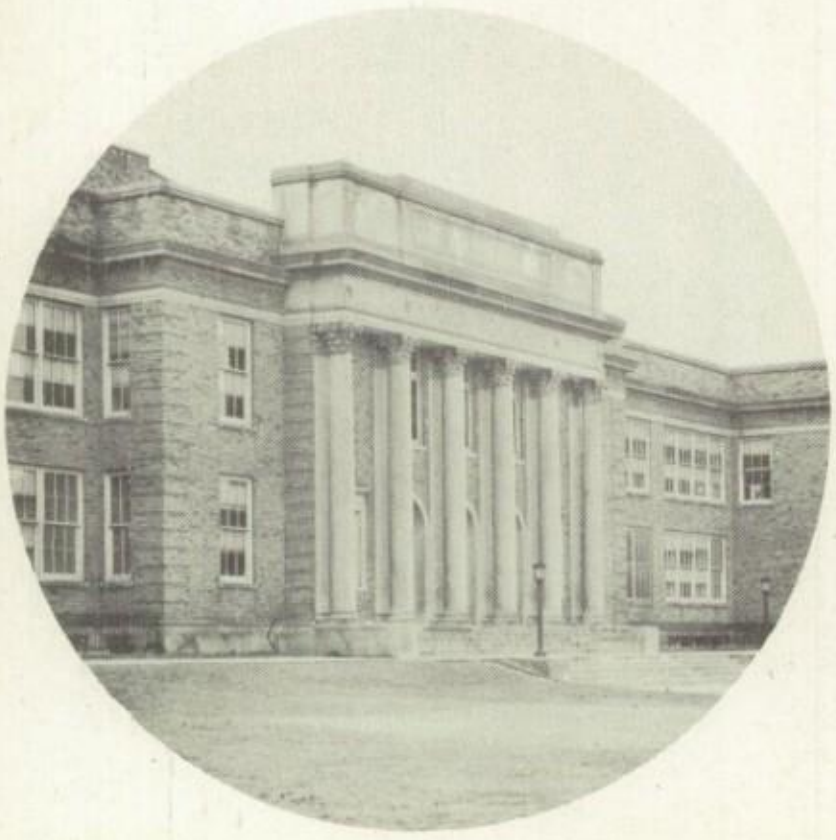
We all wish for Mrs. Pierce the happiness which she gave to so many of us.

Youth is ever free and sparkling,
Bright and always glad;
Never seeing shadows darkening,
Bearing omens sad.
Future views cannot be dreary,
Spectres grim and dire;
Youth is blithsome, never weary,
Hearts of youth afire.

We shall then in years hereafter,
From high school long gone.
Hear the cheerfulness and laughter,
As we sit alone,
Thinking over youthful pleasures,
Youthful conquests won,
Memories to each a treasure,
Days in old Kingston.

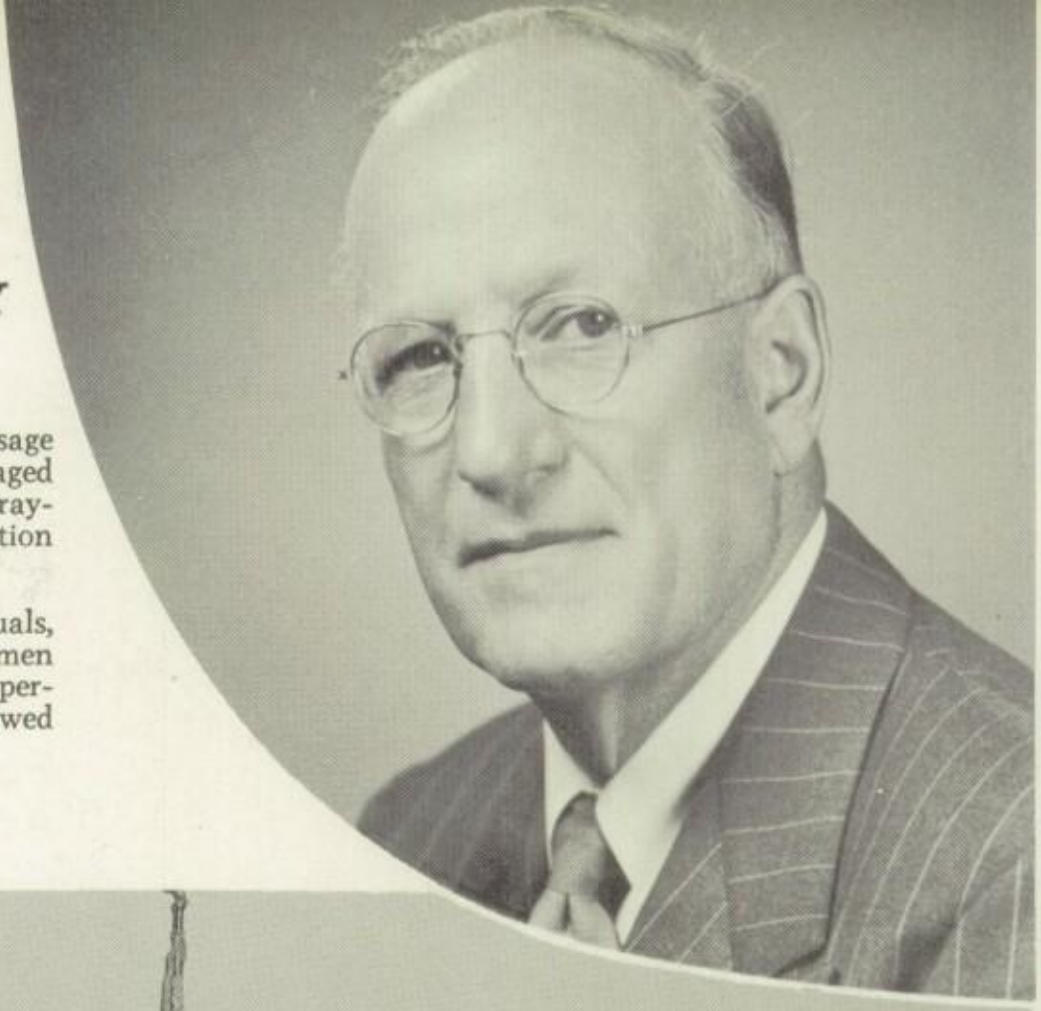
ALMA MATER





Administration and Faculty

To Mr. John B. Kennedy, Superintendent of the Kingston Schools, goes our deepest thanks and appreciation for a job well done. We fully realize the great responsibility which he has shouldered in regard to his position. Only a man with such a pleasant personality, friendly manner and great ability could so successfully strive for the betterment of our schools.



MR. JOHN B. KENNEDY

With deepest sincerity, the Class of '53 wishes to extend a message of gratitude to our School Board members. These men, though engaged in their own enterprises, have devoted much time and effort in portraying their roles of the supporting cast. Their patience and consideration have contributed greatly to the success of our productions.

To those of us who have become acquainted with these individuals, we know them to be willing to aid us in any possible way. The men who comprise the Board of Education have played their parts to perfection and are worthy, indeed, of the praise which has been bestowed upon them.

Kennedy, Dr. A. W. Grover, President of the Board; Mr. George M. Huey, Vice-President of the Board; and Mr. J. Stewart Weiss, Secretary of Kingston Borough School District.

MR. BURTON W. HANKEY

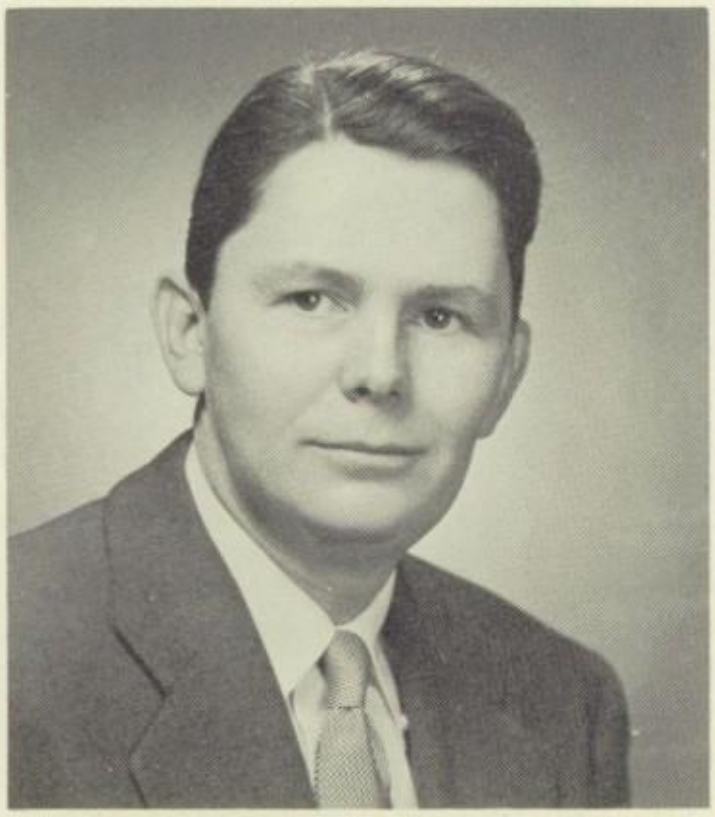
Our leading director, Mr. Burton W. Hankey, deserves endless praise for the fine job he has done as principal of our wonderful high school. His sincerity and willingness to assist us have won the confidence and respect of the entire student body. Mr. Hankey has also displayed his loyalty and school spirit by his attendance at all our social and sports events.

This indispensable director has been an invaluable asset during these four years of our production. His capable leadership and helpful advice have enabled us to accomplish everything which we have undertaken.

Thank you, Mr. Hankey, for your interest and success in improving our minds, and may you have equal success in the future.

The Guides

Administrative Assistants



MR. JOHN BENNETT
Guidance Director, Guidance Dept.

Mr. Bennett, the capable director of the Guidance Department, is always ready and willing to advise each student to the best of his ability.

Mr. Bennett helps us by showing interesting and educational movies, by preparing students for college, by giving aptitude tests and suggesting courses, and by sponsoring Career Day.

Because of the help Mr. Bennett and the Guidance Department give to every student, you can see why they are liked by all. They deserve much praise for what they do.

MISS ANITA WILLIAMS
Dean of Women

This year, Miss Anita Williams has once again very capably filled her responsible position as Dean of Women. Her success in this field has been largely due to her understanding and sympathetic advice in solving all the girls' problems.

Along with this, Miss Williams is a member of the Guidance Department and head of the English Department. As one of her duties, she also prepares our mid-year and final examinations in English.

We, the "Class of '53", are very grateful to Miss Williams for her fine guidance and wish her success and happiness in her future years at Kingston High School.

MR. WILLIAM IVESON
Director of Activities

Perhaps one of the best known directors of our production is Mr. William Iveson, our Director of Activities. Whether you find him rushing through the halls in search of almost anything or busily working in that madhouse which he calls an office, he always has a smile and a helping hand for anyone in need.

Along with his other numerous duties, Mr. Iveson has greatly assisted our "Class of '53" in planning and undertaking various projects which have enabled us to raise money for our class trip.

We should like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Iveson for all his helpfulness and express our sincere admiration for the splendid job which he has done.

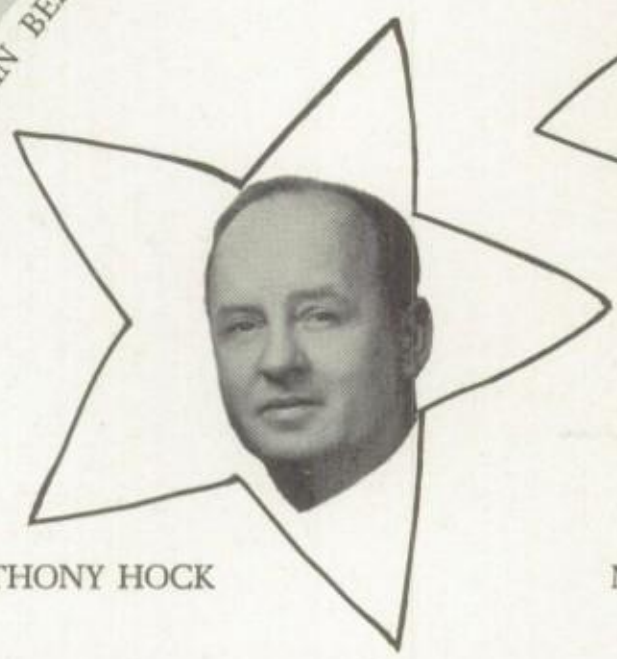
MR. JAMES JONES
Dean of Men

The position of Dean of Men of Kingston High School is capably filled by Mr. James Jones. It is his duty to administer advice to the boys in regard to any problem with which they might be faced. He also fulfills many other duties among which are participation in the management of various sports, supervision of the scheduling of classes, consultation of references to colleges, and direction of the history department. We feel honored to have such an able man in this job.

Guidance Department

Guidance Director—MR. JOHN BENNETT

MISS KATHERINE CRONIN



MR. ANTHONY HOCK

MISS HELEN DEVENDORF

One of the most efficient and helpful organizations in Kingston High School is the GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT. Mr. John L. Bennett, who capably heads this department, helps to prepare students for their future life. His patience and his friendliness are a great asset to this comparatively new organization.

Each class from the Freshman to the Seniors has its guidance counselor. Miss Helen Devendorf, a most competent advisor, has done much to aid in the success of the Senior Class. Miss Katherine Cronin is untiring in her efforts to make the present Juniors succeed. A sincere and efficient guide is Miss Hannah Jayne, the counselor of the Sophomore Class. The adviser for the Freshman Class is Miss Anita Williams, who is also our Dean of Women. Also assisting the Guidance Department are Mr. David Jones, who prepares and arranges the homeroom program and Mr. Anthony Hock, school psychologist, who administers most of the tests the students take for guidance.

Each year the GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT holds a number of social events designed to benefit the students. In addition to having the annual Christmas Tea for the College Prepatory students, the GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT has this year included a tea for the Commercial students. These social gatherings in the form of a discussion between students and alumni acquaint the students with the different aspects of life after graduation.

One of the most important events of the year is Career Day. On this day the students are afforded invaluable benefits by conversing with persons who have been successful in numerous occupations. This service is not only rendered to Kingston High School students but also to the students of surrounding high schools.

The Class of '53 is very grateful to our Guidance Department for the advice and assistance in preparing us for the road ahead.

Taking Employment Service Tests for job guidance. It must be fun judging from those happy smiles.

Class History 1953

Shooting began for our film in September 1949, when we entered the studios of Kingston High School as Freshmen. Terrified, confused, and bewildered as we were, by the new and different cast, scenery, and locality, we immediately went to work on the roles that we had selected. Many entirely new experiences presented themselves to us, such as formal dances, mid-terms and final exams, the Junior and Senior Plays, and the Star Dust Review, but we as Freshmen were forced to watch most of these from the sidelines. Then before it seemed possible, the summer had come and it was time for the entire company to take a much needed rest.

Shooting began for the second time in September 1950, when refreshed and very much alive, we returned to the lot determined to be one of the outstanding classes to graduate from K.H.S. By now we had come to know our producers and directors quite well and were therefore able to feel very much at home on the set. Now everyone became much more active in all of the activities. Then came the close of our second year and with it came the knowledge that we had the completed half of our production.

September 1951 marked the beginning of the third year of shooting for our film. Still as vivacious as ever and sparkling with a new spirit, we were able to make this year a memorable one in our history by undertaking and completing several projects with astonishing success. Among these was our Junior play, entitled "Home Sweet Homicide."

Later our magazine campaign, during which we entered into competition with the Seniors, proved not only that we possessed superior salesmanship, but also that we had a strong will to progress financially in our plans for our Senior trip to Washington, D. C. After our final exams were finished, we again rolled up our sleevs and went to work on our Junior-Senior Prom which was held for the graduating class early in June. Through much ingenuity and ever more hard work, plus the combined efforts of everyone, particularly our sponsors Miss Zawatski and Mr. Keefer, we were able to make this event a tremendous success. With a much larger vault of knowledge to our credit we again looked to the summer for three full months of pleasure before beginning our fourth, final, and biggest year.

Our final session on the set began on September 3, 1952. Some of us returned, glad that in June we would be free to do as we pleased and conquer new worlds, while others dreaded that day when we would leave the protection and guidance we had received during our four-year sojourn in Kingston High School.

But both groups joined forces and we were on our way to prove that we would always be remembered as the best senior class Kingston ever had.

We began our campaign by selling magazine subscriptions and then undertook the production of our outstanding play "MEET ME IN ST. LOUIS".

Other fund-raising projects were held such as the sale of lubrication tickets and later on, greeting cards.

The Stardust Review in May featured many seniors which explains why it was the best ever given.

Away to Washington we went after four years of hard work and eager anticipation. It was all we had dreamed of and more.

Returning home, we settled down to the grim procedure of our "final" final exams.

Then that day which had been our goal for twelve years —Commencement—was finally upon us and we all faced the future, confident that we were the best class ever to graduate from Kingston High School—the class of '53.

Class Poem

A TRAIL

At last we have come to one goal on a trail,
A trail full of happiness, learning and truth,
A trail lined with classmates and teachers, our guides,
A trail we have followed the whole of our youth.

A trail that has pointed the way to success,
And one we can follow with pleasure and strife;
A trail without branches or sharp-turning curves,
A trail that will lead us, God willing, through life.

It's true we've mastered one lap of the trip,
And vict'ry is sweet to the conqueror bold,
But we must remember the rest of our lives
That glory depends on the character we mold.

Cynthia Williams

Our Finale

The final curtain has been drawn upon our high school years,
A hush depends upon the room once filled with robust cheers.
All hearts are heavy, filled with memories we shan't forget;
Of things we've shared in work and play and fine friends that we've met.
But suddenly the stillness breaks, for there before our eyes
The curtain is parted, a light upon it lies.
We move closer to it, so that we may look within,
We find a long and narrow path—here lighted—and there dim.
This path leads to our future, whatever it may be
What lies ahead we do not know; before long we shall see.
For down this road of plans and dreams there is a place for all,
An outlet for the mighty, protection for the small.
What fate we'll meet in future years, what honors we shall gain,
What sacrifices we shall make, what hours spent in pain
They're marked beside the road that we shall soon embark,
Whether we walk where the light is, or wander in the dark.
But yet we start our journey with a smile and not a sigh,
We're comforted inside by the memories of Kingston High.

In the early part of the school term, two students, one boy and one girl, are elected by each Senior homeroom to serve as the representatives of their homerooms on the Senior Executive Council. This makes a total of twelve members. The duties of the Council are many, but one of its biggest responsibilities is to find ways and means of earning money to finance the Senior class trip to Washington, D. C. The council meets once a month to discuss Senior Class affairs.

The strident whine of the saw as it bites its way through pungent pine, the low growling of the metal lathe as it chips its way through hard steel, and sundry noises from other shops are eloquent evidence that some of our students are slowly but surely becoming skilled craftsmen.

This year the Vocational Department was available to students of other districts making it possible for them to obtain training in some skilled trade. Boys from Dallas, Edwardsville, Forty Fort, Glen Lyon, Harding, Mountain Top, Swoyerville, and Wilkes-Barre are presently students in this department of the Kingston High School. These boys have shown themselves to be excellent students in the classroom as well as the shops and are also active in the various activities sponsored by the student body.

This program offers something new in the field of education. Students spend one-half of their time in the high school classrooms and one-half of their time in the shop of their choice, thus a student receives academic preparation as well as training in shop skills and trade knowledge.

No two shops are alike. Each shop differs in its own way, performing individually, and producing its own skilled craftsmen. A visit through any one of the shops will show these boys to be actively engaged in operating a complex machine or in performing some other skilled operation.

The opening of the school term found the yearbook staff, organized late last year, ready for some hard work. Their main goal was to produce the best yearbook that had ever been published by the seniors of Kingston High School. The first job fell upon the Art Staff, which had to lay out the book and design a cover. While the Art Staff was still at work, the editorial staff began its staff of recording all the school functions, writing about the various clubs, and composing jingles for the seniors. Next came the job of the typing staff which was naturally to type the material that was to be used in thebook. Last, came the job of the Business Staff which was promoting the sales of our finished product.

The staff acknowledges with sincere gratitude the faculty members who helped make this production a success. We thank Mrs. Schulz, Miss Weiss, Miss Cahalan and Mr. William Morgan for their time and advice, which was indeed very welcome.

We certainly felt a great deal of satisfaction when we of the staff saw the finished book. We hope that you, the students, enjoy this yearbook as much as we have enjoyed making it for you.

Special recognition goes to the following seniors: Peggy Mericle, Catherine Gallagher, Joan Oleski, Cheta Bortz, Eleanore Lindemann, Marilyn Williams, Marilyn Huffman and Janie Rodgers

"We, the editors of the Kingstonian newspaper, take this opportunity to extend our thanks to those who have worked faithfully and diligently with us this past year. Through their cooperation we were able to publish six editions of this publication each of which furnished the students with the "current events" that occurred in or around the school.

The Senior Editorial Staff, the Business Staff and the Typing Staff are all to be commended for their fine work before, during and after each publication.

However, we are not to forget the "men behind the scenes," our capable advisors, Mr. Albert Brenner and Mr. Robert Anthony. Also, we say "Thank You" to Mr. Lewis Kohn, who provided us with many pictures and much information for the Kingstonian.

Last, but not least, we wish to thank the students, themselves. It is stated that a newspaper is only worth value if it has a large circulation. We extended our quota for each issue through the students' assistance.

Good luck to next year's editors. May you be successful in your attempts for a fine newspaper."

Sincerely, PATSY and CATHERINE

CHRISTMAS BASKET PROJECT

"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character."

Under the capable supervision of Mr. Donald Hilbert, the Hi-Y, is one of the most respected clubs in our school.

As a very serious club in connection with the Young Men's Christian Association, it helps the needy families at Christmas time with food and clothing.

The officers should be complimented on a job well done.

The Pi Delta, under the capable leadership of Mr. Victor Piccone and its officers, consists of Senior and Junior boys. One of the many projects of this organization is an annual donation to the Community Chest. Because the Pi Delta had such good fortune this year, it held various outings—among them a hayride. We hope that the future Pi Delta Clubs will be fortunate enough to have officers as competent as those elected this year. With such officers and Mr. Piccone as their adviser, they are certain to succeed in all they undertake as did the club in '52-'53.

Pi Delta Auxiliary

Senior and Junior girls, with Mr. Piccone as adviser, make up the membership of the Pi Delta Auxiliary. These girls work hard at the Pi Delta stands at football games throughout the football season. It is largely due to their tireless efforts that the Pi Delta Club is so successful. Initiation was held on Halloween night at the Meyers-Kingston game for the newly elected Senior members. A good time was had by all, as is always the case, wherever the Pi Delta congregates.

Senior Y-Teens

OFFICERS

President	Sally Lyons
Vice President	Pat Jones
Secretary	Betty Narsavage
Treasurer	Catherine Scureman
Program Chairman	Eleanore Lindemann
Advisors	Miss Jane Darrow, Miss Marian Murphy

The Y-Teens is a club directly affiliated with the YWCA in Wilkes-Barre. This year it consists of Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores. Each month the Y-Teens, under the supervision of Miss Darrow and Miss Murphy, hold three meetings, two at the YWCA and one at school. At these meetings they had speakers, movies and other types of programs.

The social activities of the club were limited because of its size.

Because of the splendid spirit of co-operation, the club has had one of its most successful years.

VALENTINE LUNCHEON

German Club

The purpose of the German club is to supplement the classroom activities by studying the traditions and folklore of the German people. Under the capable supervision of Miss Weis, the club has enjoyed a year of interest and educational programs. The programs included speakers, quizzes and music by their own German band.

The social meetings of the year included their annual Christmas party at which gifts were distributed by St. Nicholas, their annual picnic which was held in the early spring and a Fastnacht party which was held on Shrove Tuesday.

The Library Club, under the capable direction of Mrs. Myre Scovell and Miss Theodosia Trotszki, consists of those sophomores, juniors, and seniors who fulfill the necessary requirements for admission to the club.

The purpose of the Library Club is to help other students to become better acquainted with the library and to aid them in using it to their best advantage. After being admitted to the club, each member must work one period every week in the library. By doing this, each one helps the organization to reach its ultimate goal.

The students shelve and stamp books as well as distribute slips for overdue books.

The annual Christmas party was held in the library which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Refreshments were served by the club members.

Pan American Club

President ..... Robert Kohl
Vice-President ..... Ann Danna

Reporters ..... Shirley Fleshut, Robert Perrella
Advisers ..... Miss Helen McHugh, Mrs. Helen Page

The Pan American Club under the excellent sponsorship of Mrs. Helen Page and Miss Helen McHugh, has successfully completed another year. The purpose of the club is to further the learning of Spanish customs and habits. Some of the club members are faithful correspondents of young teenagers of Latin-American countries. Throughout the year guest speakers, who have had the opportunity to visit these countries, are invited to relate some of their experiences. Dr. Fleck, of Wyoming Seminary, gave an informative talk on his International Tour of Mexico. The social activities of this year's club were also made eventful and successful by the hard working committees appointed by the President.

As is customary each year, the Latin Club is organized and sponsored by Miss Helen Thompson. The club is composed of those students who are studying Caesar and Cicero.

The Latin Club, as in the past, takes part in the All-Club Christmas Party and the All-Club Outing in June. Besides this, the club always has a project of its own.

At the end of the year, the Latin Club makes an award to the Freshman boy who attains the highest average in his class.

Home Economics Club has made much progress throughout the years. This is due to the fact that Miss Bush and Miss Kitchener have given so generously of their time. We hope that in future years to come, these two capable directors, Miss Bush and Miss Kitchener, will have the same success in organizing this club as they have had the last few years.

The Engineering Club has a very appropriate motto, "We teach at all times, friendship, good citizenship, and honor."

To become a member of this club, one must have two years of algebra and one year of plane geometry. For this reason, the club consists wholly of Junior and Senior boys.

The activities of the Engineers Club consist of participation in the All Club Party and a joint outing with the Honor Society at Monomonock Inn in the Poconos.

At the end of the year a $5 prize in presented to the person with the highest average in the field of Science for four years.

To you, Mr. Morgan, goes a hearty "well-done" for the job you have done as sponsor of the Engineers Club.

The Ushers Club, under the direction of Mr. John Vail, has done an excellent job this year. Although the main purpose of the club is to usher at the affairs sponsored by the school, they have also given their capable services for programs presented by other organizations.

During the year, the members have ushered at the Apollo Club's concert and the Operas that have been presented in the high school auditorium. They have also given their services for the Junior and Senior Class plays, the Band Concerts and the Stardust Revue.

The club consists of chosen members of the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior Class. It has contributed greatly to the successful activities that have been presented in our school.

The motto of the Sketch Club is "We will transmit our high school more lovely than it was transmitted to us." This has been possible only through the wonderful guidance and experienced direction of our art teacher, Miss Mildred Edwards. With her help and cooperation we have been able to make and improve the chapel programs, the pep sessions, the Christmas Cantata, the Stardust Review and many others. This organization makes many posters advertising almost all the activities which take place. In this way, Kingston High School has become more aware and proud of its Sketch Club.

The Kingston Chapter of the National Honor Society is composed of those Juniors and Seniors who have shown very high standards of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. It was founded in 1931 by Miss Freda Jones, who is still the club advisor. Twice yearly members are chosen by the Honor Council, which is a group of faculty members.

During the year the Society presents scholarship banners to the homerooms with the highest averages in the junior and senior high groups, and, in June, it sponsors Award Day. The social highlight of the year is an outing and dinner at Monomonock Inn in the Poconos.

Junior Honor Society

Vice-President	Lynne Boyle
Secretary	John Brennan
Treasurer	Katherine Scheffley
Adviser	Mrs. Myre Scovell

Our Junior Honor Honor Society, a chapter of the national group, was organized two years ago to encourage interest in scholarship, leadership, school citizenship, and service. Its members, elected from the Prepsman and Freshman classes, must have definite ability in each of the four fields. These students are chosen in the same manner as the members of the National Honor Society. All new members are installed at an impressive ceremony during chapel.

Through their own efforts and those of their capable adviser, Mrs. Myre Scovell, the members have made the Junior Honor Society one of the up-and-coming clubs of our school community.

The Girls' Athletic Association or G.A.A. is composed of the girls who have earned a specified number of points as a result of participation in various school sports. The club strives not only to increase the school spirit, but also to encourage an ever constant sense of good sportsmanship.

Twice a year new members are taken into the club and are put through a very rugged initiation. These and old members are under the supervision of the club sponsor, Mrs. Miriam Hannon, who carefully guides all activities and projects of this organization.

Swimming Club

This club is perhaps the most unusual organization in K. H. S. It consists of fifty girls who either wish to improve their aquatic technique or increase their knowledge of water safety. Under the able direction of Mrs. Miriam Hannon, Mrs. Marian Reniska, and Miss Lovetta Dinius, this group may be found busily practicing every Wednesday night at the Wilkes-Barre Y. W. C. A.

United Nations Club

This year, in its third year of existence, the foremost aim of the United Nations Club was realized when the club visited the headquarters of the world peace organization in New York.

On October 17, 1952 a group of forty students and two chaperones (Miss Fay and Miss Cronin) left Kingston High School for an enjoyable and educational tour of the United Nations.

The picture on this page shows members of the club enjoying themselves on the trip. The club has many projects which include raising money for another New York trip and continuing to keep ourselves informed on United Nations activities.

Office Aides

These girls can be seen at any hour during the school day going through the halls on errands for teachers and the office.

Their many duties include distributing absentee slips, bulletins, special notices, and giving information to visitors.

They are not chosen on a competitive basis, but they all have pleasing personalities and are honest, courteous and trustworthy.

The Office Aids are not yet organized as a club but they deserve recognition for all the work they do.

One of the most important and famous of our school organizations is the band, which each year brings more honor to Kingston High School. The band, directed by Mr. Howard Hallock, is, in reality, three bands: marching, concert and pit bands.

The marching band may be seen at every football game, adding lively music and much color to the contest. The most widely heard of the three, it also plays at many outside events and appears in all the local parades.

The highlight of the concert band's season was the annual concert on March 13, when a capacity crowd jammed the auditorium to listen to the well-balanced program which featured standard numbers, novelties and individual solos.

The much smaller pit band appears at all school assemblies and special programs and is always on the job when needed.

This year Kingston Band sent representatives, seven in all, to both the district and state bands and the district and state orchestras.

Once again, we, the students of Kingston High School, wish to commend the Band for its fine record of service and dependability.

The Dramatics Department, under the direction of Mrs. Marjorie Brown Thomas, presented a Christmas play entitled "Star Song." The story took place one mid-winter night in a little Inn outside Bethlehem, in the time of Caesar Augustus. It told how the selfish lives of a number of individuals were changed by the Infant King.

Following the play, the Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Turner, presented a musical program. It opened with an Organ recital, followed by the audience singing Christmas Carols. The club sang their numbers on the stage this year and in addition, the new piano was used. The program varied from vocal solos and duets, to a piano and organ duet. Those taking special part in the program were as follows: Patricia Fiske, Eleanor Jablonski, Patricia Jones, Janice Morgan, Katherine Moran, Barbara Pinkowski, Joanne White and Rosemary Crofchick. The accompanist was Mary Lee Wilcox.

The combined program was enjoyed by those who attended and will be long remembered as one of the best Christmas programs produced in Kingston High School.

Senior Play

The Class of 1953 presented their Senior Play, "Meet Me In St. Louis," on November 21 under the capable direction of Mrs. Marjorie Brown Thomas. The story was adapted for the stage from the book by Sally Benson.

The play is that of a typical American family of 1904, the year of the World's Fair in St. Louis. When four sisters, all beauties, are so concerned with their brother's predicaments, not to mention their own, they have no time to listen to their worried father who is about to make an announcement. Finally when he makes his announcement that he has been offered a better job in New York and the family is moving at once, the girls unite for action. With the fair coming just around the corner, they don't want to leave. They resort to a hilarious series of strategies and maneuvers that not only result in their staying where they've been so happy, but in straightening out all their problems in a whirlwind finale.

MRS. MARJORIE BROWN THOMAS

Junior Play

The outstanding Class of '54, or the current Junior Class, presented as their major production of the year, the rollicking farce entitled "Nothing but the Truth," a three act comedy written by James Montgomery.

The story revolves around a young man who promises in the form of a bet, to tell nothing but the truth for twenty-four hours. The results are hilarious, and in a laughter-filled whirlwind finish a satisfactory ending is reacheed.

Mrs. Marjorie Brown Thomas ably directed the play.

Those who took part and gave very convincing performances were the following:

John Bassett, Jackie Chapin, Mike Hinebaugh, Dorothy Anderson, Millard Christmas, Sue Lustig, Carroll Davenport, Don Moran, Edna Mae Coon and Flora Thorner.

To sum it up: The play was fun, the direction was excellent, the cast was well picked, there was wonderful audience appeal—and believe me, this is "Nothing but the Truth."

For the first time in several years, we have been fortunate to have a girls' basketball team among our extra-curricular activities. The girls were very capably coached by Mrs. Miriam Hannon and Mrs. Marian Reniska.

Although it was their first year of performing as a high school team, their spirit of cooperation and teamwork enabled them to complete the season undefeated.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

MR. CLYDE BOYER

This year the Kingston High School Huskies completed another successful season by placing second in the Wyoming Valley Conference. This was the second year for "Jake" Kopicki as head coach. He was ably assisted by Don Hilbert, Phil Morgan and John Reese.

After weeks of diligent practice, we were prepared with one of the strongest Kingston teams in years. Quarterback Jerry Fitzgerald's fine running and excellent passing were vital factors in most of our victories. In the Plains game, ends Denny Llewelyn and Joe Reese scored on passes and Jim Walsh ran 40 yards for our final touchdown. A 45 yard run by Bill Yenelavage and a blocked kick provided the Huskies with a triumph over Plymouth.

Coughlin was the final victim. In the closing minutes of the Thanksgiving Day game, Jack Llewellyn scored on a pass from Fitzgerald. Therefore, Kingston once again obtained the Coal Trophy, which had previously been at Coughlin for two years.

As an added recognition to the Huskies, Denny Llewellyn was chosen for the Wyoming Valley All-Scholastic team.

COACH MORGAN

Coach Phil Morgan displayed his usual fine coaching in the 1952-1953 basketball season. With the team's hard work and Coach Morgan's capable supervision, we were able to complete another successful season.

Led by Captain Jack Evans, Ray Leandri, and Jerry Fitzgerald, our top scorers, the Huskies started the season with a bang by winning ten ten straight games. The team went on to finish third in the first half.

Through graduation, Kingston loses Denny Llewellyn, Jack Evans, Jerry Fitzgerald and Ray Gehris. Although these seniors' services will be missed, new stars such as Ray Leandri, Ed Moran, Bill Harding, and Bob Phillips will follow in their footsteps.

Wrestling

For the fourth consecutive year the Kingston High School Huskies, who were undefeated in league competition, won the Wyoming Valley Wrestling Championship. They were coached by John Reese, who was ably assisted by Dave Edwards.

Led by Captain Bill Bosso, the Huskies registered seven pins and won two matches by default in their overwhelming victory over Mount Carmel. Jerry Ogurkis, in the 127 pound class, scored the fastest fall of the season in 45 seconds.

In the Coughlin meet, the score was 20-20 going into the last bout. Don Wright scored a 6-2 victory to win for the Huskies.

Kingston showed their usual superiority by winning five first places and two second places in the district meets. The following boys were District Two Champs: Danny Zikowski 103, John Shutlock 112, Bill Bosso 120, Al Husband 138, and Bill Yenelavage 165. Danny Zikowski was also a regional champ, who represented Kingston High at the State Finals at Penn State.

It was a rousing climax to a successful season.

Stardust

The 14th annual Stardust Revue was held on the nights of April 30th and May 1st.

The '53 Stardust had as its masters of ceremonies Chris Mulsteff, Mary Lee Wilcox, Audrey Deitz, and Jerry Luft who welcomed everyone with a snappy introduction to the tune of "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

The ever popular Stardusters directed by Robert Marko opened the show with such numbers as "Star Dust," "Why Don't You Believe Me," "Harlem Nocturne" and "You Belong To Me." James Gallagher and the Starlettes concluded the act with their rendition of "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody."

The second act, entitled "Mother Goose," portrayed a little girl's dream of Mother Goose land. This act contained many appropriate songs by the Junior Girls Chorus. Such characters as Old King Cole, Woman in the Shoe, Humpty Dumpty, The Three Little Kittens and Little Miss Muffet helped to make this act one that will long be remembered by everyone.

The breath-taking Living Statues made their third return to K. H. S. this year with excellent scenes of wrestling, boxing and baseball, as well as their portrayal of Working Together and the Free World.

Other highlights of the evening were several in-between acts which included an organ and piano duet, accordian selections, a piano solo, acrobatic stunt, marimba duet, and the well-known Aledon Trio.

Next the audience enjoyed Guys and Dolls presented by the Glee Club. This act compared the courting of past years with that of today. A few of the many songs sung by the chorus were "Second Minuet," "My Beautiful Lady," "My Hero," "There Is Nothin Like a Dame," and "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

The success of the 1953 Stardust Revue was due to the hard work and many long hours spent by the students and faculty in the production of this unique show.
